

2007 YEAR END AWARDS

Diane Prosser tops Delta Riding Club 2007 awards

It shouldn't take long to figure out a winning attitude has its share of perks, at least when it comes to Diane Prosser. Diane dominated the Delta Riding Club's 2007 year end awards roster in some pretty impressive categories when she was presented with perpetual trophies for "Most Enthusiastic" and "Sportsmanship."

She also won the division high point for English and was named Overall Champion, with her sorrel mare, She's Amusing.

Diane is no stranger to Delta Riding Club members. She's one of a relatively small group of female farriers in the Fraser Valley and she has a lot of customers in this community. She attended almost every DRC show last year, and her big smile and infectious enthusiasm could warm even the most cranky competitor (and there are always a few!).

Other big DRC winners included Carol Payne, riding Benjamin Franklin and Jacob. She took 14 of 20 Hunter/Jumper championships, handily winning the perpetual for Overall Hunter/Jumper champion and reserve.

Devon Smith, riding her Paint mare Super Miss Lucy, duked it out with the Brittany Littler riding Dakota and Jamie Tarlier on After Ten for most the of the Western division awards. Devon won the overall championship.

Brittany scored the Games championship, however, with Jamie coming up as reserve.

The English division was a little more contentious with Cassondra Kurenov, Macartney Greenfield, Kerri and Kyla Gould, and McKenna Mintzler all winning multiple awards. Emily Tentzerakis also won two walk-trot classes.

The club hosts dressage shows as well. (In fact, they've added a Dressage Series to their 2008 show season.) Kyla Gould (KG Touch of Silver), Lauren MacLeod (Odelmar), Jill Andersen (Sophista), Lauren MacLeod (Odelmar) and Teri Agle (Honor the Rule) were all awarded championships.

Ten year old McKenna Mintzler was "most improved." Cathy Glover was presented with a "special appreciation" award for her work on the show committee, and Julie Miller was honoured with the Wayne Schiewe Memorial award for her enthusiastic efforts to help the club's junior members. (Julie also orchestrated the awards banquet - worthy of an award in itself.)

Tracy Lust is the first recipient of a new Horsemanship award, donated and presented by Val Woida of Horse on Course. Val specifically asked club members to select the person that exhibited the most care and concern for her horses' well-being while at the shows and Tracy was the ultimate and well-deserving choice.

Kyla Gould - the 2007 Miss DRC -- and KG Touch of Silver won the perpetual for Overall Equitation, and Overall Pony went to Macartney Greenfield.

As with any horse club, honouring the top performers wouldn't be possible without a long list of sponsors, so at the risk of leaving someone off, we would like to extend our thanks to all for their continued support and congratulations to everyone who competed during 2007.
